

Kenneth Cole New York teamed up with Style Correspondent Brett Fahlgren and Macy's to comb the nation for young men in need of a fashion tutorial. From San Francisco to New York, from oversized to underdressed, Kenneth Cole New York brought higher apparel education to guys in need. With a personal style for every kind of man, here's how a few top students made the honor roll.

Tyrone Rolle

PHOTOGRAPHER AND GRAPHIC DESIGNER
NEW YORK, NY

THEN: He had a good look going, but like many young men, he wasn't used to dressing up.

NOW: A black suit always announces that you mean business. The accessories, though, are really pulling it all together for Tyrone: the pocket square, the tie clip, and a bag that's just the right size.
